The speaker says: "Think about something you have always wanted to add to your life and try it for the next 30 days. It turns out 30 days is just about the right amount of time to add a new habit or subtract a habit [...]." Therefore, in order to change something, Cutts suggests a month's trial period as that seems to be the ideal length.

1

The speaker says: "There is [sic] a few things that I learned while doing these 30-day challenges. The first was, instead of the months flying by forgotten, the time was much more memorable. This was part of a challenge I did to take a picture every day for a month. And I remember exactly where I was and what I was doing that day." Therefore, Cutts found out that challenges allow you to remember things you did better.

2

The speaker says: "I went from desk-dwelling computer nerd to the kind of guy who bikes to work, for fun!" Therefore, because of the challenges, Cutts has begun to enjoy cycling to his office.

3

The speaker says: "Every November, tens of thousands of people try to write their own 50,000-word novel, from scratch, in 30 days." Therefore, once a year, a lot of people attempt to finish a book within a month's time.

4

The speaker says: "So I did. By the way, the secret is not to go to sleep until you've written your words for the day." Therefore, to achieve the goal, you have to stay awake till your daily work load is done.

5

The speaker says: "Now, is my book the next great American novel? No, I wrote it in a month. It's awful." Therefore, after the challenge to create a work of art, Cutts thought he had created a terrible piece.

6

The speaker says: "I learned that when I made small, sustainable changes, things I could keep doing, they were more likely to stick." Therefore, Cutts has realized that after a challenge many easy activities stay part of his life.

The speaker says: "She was left with three children. Lincoln's father went back to his home and married the widow Sarah." Therefore, Lincoln's new mother brought three children into the marriage.

1

The speaker says: "The new stepmother quickly became very fond of Abraham. She encouraged him in every way to study and improve himself." Therefore, Lincoln's new mother felt fond of him.

2

The speaker says: "It was a wild region with many bears and other wild animals still in the woods. There I grew up. [...] The Pigeon Creek Settlement had only eight or ten very poor families. They lived deep in the forest." Therefore, the Lincolns lived in a wild region, an area with bears, or in the woods.

3

The speaker says: "In Lincoln's seventeenth year he had more books and better teachers, but he had to walk four or five miles to reach them." Therefore, the school Lincoln went to as a teenager was four or five miles away from his home.

4

The speaker says: "The instruction he received from his five teachers – two in Kentucky and three in Indiana – stretched over nine years." Therefore, Lincoln met with his instructors for nine years.

5

The speaker says: "His early companions all agree that he employed every spare moment to his studies." Therefore, he studied in every spare moment.

6

The speaker says: "When he came across a passage that struck him, he would write it down on boards if he had no paper. He would keep it there until he did get paper. Then he would re-write it, look at it and repeat it. He had a copy book, a kind of a scrapbook in which he put all things and thus save them. He spent long evenings writing sums on the fire shovel." Therefore, Lincoln wrote his notes on boards before he could copy them into his book.

7

The speaker says: "He borrowed every book in the neighborhood." Therefore, Lincoln got his reading material from the neighbors.

The speaker says: "I would like to add a voice for the animals, whose bodies and minds and spirits shaped us." Therefore, Lanting wants to speak for animals because they shaped us.

1

The speaker says: "Some years ago it was my good fortune to meet a tribal elder on an island not far from Vancouver. His name is Jimmy Smith, and he shared a story with me that is told among his people [...]." Therefore, Lanting got to know Jimmy Smith, who was willing to share a story.

2

The speaker says: "And from time to time they would gather at a sacred cave deep inside the forest to celebrate their unity." Therefore, according to Jimmy Smith, the animals used to meet in a cave.

3

The speaker says: "But one day, a human made it to the cave and laughed at what he saw because he did not understand. Embarrassed, the animals fled and that was the last time they revealed themselves this way." Therefore, because of the reaction of the person watching, the animals were embarrassed and fled.

4

The speaker says: "The ancient understanding that underneath their separate identities, all animals are one, has been a powerful inspiration to me." Therefore, for Lanting, the idea that all animals are basically the same has been a powerful inspiration.

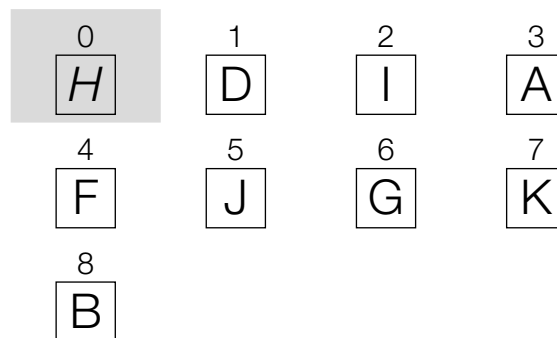

5

The speaker says: "People are always present in my photos." Therefore, in Lanting's pictures, humans are always present.

6

The speaker says: "As a photographer, I try to reach beyond the differences in our genetic makeup to appreciate all we have in common with every other living thing [...] so I can show who they really are." Therefore, in his pictures, Lanting wants to show what animals and people have in common and who they really are.

4 A Simply Red concert

Begründungen

Stella says: "A friend of mine from Innsbruck was supposed to be coming to go with a friend of mine, Annemarie. And I think it was the day before she broke her foot, she fell off a wall, I think." Therefore, Stella got the chance to go to the concert, because somebody had an accident.

1

Stella says: "I felt really, really bad, though. I was like, well she can't go because she can't walk up the steps and I'm getting to go instead of her." Therefore, at first, Stella was unable to enjoy the gift because she felt sorry for somebody.

2

Stella says: "Annemarie came to my place and she picked me up and we walked. It was, was about only 10 minutes, I think – something like that – and, yeah, then we got there." Therefore, the person who went to the concert with Stella met her at her home.

3

Stella says: "[...] then we got there. Then we had something to eat. We had one of these huge big pretzel things and a drink." Therefore, right before the concert started, Stella and her friend bought a salty snack.

4

Stella says: "And we walked in and the place was just completely empty. It's like this huge, big concert hall and it was, yeah, there was hardly anyone in there. It was very strange." Therefore, when they entered, they found that only a few people were present.

5

Stella says: "The pre-band was this gospel thing and the screen was really, really small and I thought [...] we are not going to be able to see much." Therefore, the size of the monitors made a good view impossible.

6

Stella says: "Beforehand, because I couldn't remember Simply Red, I kind of youtubed them." Therefore, in preparation for the concert, Stella had looked up the group.

7

Stella says: "[...] some of the songs were absolutely brilliant. The beginning: really, really good. In the middle I kind of zoned out a bit, the end was really good. The atmosphere in the place was excellent." Therefore, on the whole, Stella enjoyed the first and the last songs.

8

Stella says: "And then, yeah, the crowd was singing along, and it was just really, really good. Oh, both of us were singing along, Annemarie was singing along as well." Therefore, towards the end of the show, everybody joined in with the band's songs.
